"Hail to thee Saint Mary's"

Volume 96 — Stagecoach
900 Hillsborough Street
Raleigh, N.C. 27603

Dedicated To Margaret McGlohon

If you were ever a student at Saint Mary's while this woman worked here, you never went through one day on campus without feeling, seeing, and participating in something organized by her. She was a Saint Mary's girl herself, and she graduated in 1981. While at Saint Mary's, she was student body president, a hall counselor, a member of WATS, and a standout on the college tennis team. Having participated in so much while at Saint Mary's, it is no wonder that on her return to Saint Mary's as the student activities director the participation and enthusiasm only became more intense and more involved. Her popularity on campus resulted in her receiving the Student Life Award in 1990, which is given annually to a person on campus who involves herself in caring for the life of the students beyond the classroom, and she most certainly cares.

This woman is everything a Saint Mary's woman should be and wants to be. Everybody's love, respect, and admiration for her is immeasurable. Although quiet and humble, her fiery red hair tells anyone who sees her that inside she is alive — alive with her love for the students of Saint Mary's. She gives, gives, and gives, yet not once has she ever asked for a thank you. No one has given more of themselves to this school. There are not many people who can say that they have done as many worth while things for Saint Mary's as she has.

For all she is and for all she has done for the people and for the school, this yearbook is dedicated to Margaret McGlohon. Thank you for encouraging the students. Thank you for being a part of the students falling in love with Saint Mary's. Thank you for letting us fall in love with you. We all love you, Margaret, and as long as Saint Mary's is standing, what you have done for this school and its people will forever be remembered. Thank you and goodbye. Saint Mary's will miss you — we will miss you.

College Student Government Association

In 1919, the Reverend Warren Wade Way established a school council for the purpose of getting "a fine feeling of loyalty among the students and a better cooperation in securing high and happy standards of Christian living in our family household." Today the Student Government officers still strive for the same objective as the council of 1919, but they are also concerned with promoting school spirit, planning social events, and numerous other responsibilities. The SGA must pledge to uphold the honor code and maintain the highest standards in all phases of campus life.

High School Student Government Association

The Student Government Association of Saint Mary's High School has been hard at work this year to establish a foundation for the first complete High School Student Government. Five officers and a great advisor make up a unit that helps enforce and uphold the rules of SMC. Also, the SGA has put much work into functions such as the Spring Fling, Octoberfest, Spirit Week, Fall Formal, Lighting O' the Grove and other great SMC events. The hard work that has gone into the 1993-94 school year has taught the girls the value of teamwork and what it takes to make things happen.

The Judicial Board was established in 1978 upon the recommendation of the Student Government Officers and the Honor and Social Boards. The President of the College approved the combination of the Honor and Socials Boards and the creation of the Dorm Council to replace the Minor Offense Committee. The Student Body endorsed the changes on a majority vote. The Judicial Board was created for the purpose of strengthening the Honor System and ensuring fairness for penalties.

DORMITORY COUNCIL

Dorm Council was established in 1978 to handle minor dorm offenses. The Dorm Council is run by a group of responsible students along with the help of a faculty advisor and handles such offenses as missing curfew or assembly absences.

CHAPLAIN JANET WATROUS

It is with a great deal of sadness and reluctance that the Saint Mary's community bids farewell to Chaplain Janet Watrous. Chaplain Watrous spent nine years at Saint Mary's, contributing to campus life in countless ways. The student body voted Chaplain Watrous the recipient of the prestigious Student Life Award for 1993-94. This award is in recognition of outstanding involvement in student life outside the classroom. Chaplain Watrous's door was always open to students who had problems or just wanted to talk. Her official duties included all Chapel programs, supervision of the Vestry, organization of volunteer work in the Raleigh community, as well as counselling.

Saint Mary's group of Phi Theta Kappa are members of the Chi Beta Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa National Honor Fraternity of American Junior Colleges. Phi Theta Kappa also stipulates that for membership eligibility "a student shall be of good, moral character and shall possess recognized qualities of citizenship, and shall have established academic excellence as judged by the faculty."

High School National Honor Society

The purpose of the High School Honor Society is to recognize and to encourage scholarship, and to promote those qualities of character reflective of the best in Saint Mary's history. Members are students who are working toward a high school diploma. Students eligible for membership have a cumulative average of 3.75 or more after one semester or at least 3.50 after two or more semesters. Membership is based on scholarship with due regard to character and honor.

Fine Arts Club members behind the scenes at the play Shadowlands.

The mission of the Fine Arts Club is to promote the arts on campus and to provide opportunities who possess similar interests in that area. At the invitation of the Fine Art Club many local artists have spoken on campus on subjects ranging from theatre production to art. The club tries to plan at least one activity a month and has attended museums and theatrical and musical performances. The club is proud of its impact on the Saint Mary's community.

CHORALE

Directed by Dr. Wylie S. Quinn, III (pictured), the Saint Mary's Chorale sings for school and community functions. Their performances include a variety of traditional and contemporary pieces. The audience is always awed by the lovely music this hardworking group presents. Sometimes Dr. Quinn dresses up to make a point!

Chorale members are Kendy Allen, Elisa Esposito, Jamie Griswold, Jennifer Harris, Samantha Katen, Beth Miller, Elizabeth Olson, Michelle Oppegard, Lindsey Reynolds, Brennie Sharpe, Baxter Wagner, and Evelyn Way.

ENVIRONMENTAL CLUB

The Environmental Club promotes environmental awareness throughout the community. The club was very active in the student body as they provided helpful ways to save the earth and its inhabitants.

Jenny Lewis, Kristy Rawls, Dickens Whitley, Michelle Opegaard.

ATLAS

The Atlas Club was established to help the International students adjust to a campus culture different from their own. Students come from around the world to attend SMC and this support group is well used. The club meets to help students understand the events going on around them, whether it is studying, local news, relationships, or lingo. The club is a great opportunity for foreign students to meet others from their own country and to explore new countries and traditions.

THE 1993-1994 PUBLICATIONS STAFF

College Stagecoach editor Emmy Teague almost dropped the class when she heard what was going to be expected of her. In one class period she jumped from protester to editor. Right behind her came the unsuspecting Amy Warren, co-editor. Danielle Little and Harper Best became editors of The Belles. Even though the entire group of 20 was responsible for the production of both publications, by January it was clear who the newspaper folks were and who the yearbook folks were.

The Belles staff was aptly assisted first semester by what became The Stagecoach staff. They managed to get out a paper a month, missing just a few deadlines here and there.

The Stagecoach crew, most of whom are in the picture of the pyramid, almost had it finished by graduation, despite setbacks like Copy Editor Suzanne Clark flushing months of writing out of her computer. Emmy and Danielle both came back after school was out to wrap things up. Even though she was not in the class, Nancy Hill ended up putting in a tremendous number of hours.

We all agree that this year was quite a learning experience and are grateful that a lot of us who learned will be back to do it again next year!

SOCIAL CLUBS

Circle

The Order of the Circle was organized in 1938, and continues to remain strong today. As the Circle symbolizes unity, so does the purpose of this organization. Circle promotes a spirit of cooperation among students, faculty, and staff. The group is formed of high standards of service, fellowship, citizenship, and scholarship. Many students view the members of Circle in high regard and hope that they will someday be chosen to join.

Silent S was founded by the sophomores from the class of 1989, and has been kept a secret club ever since. The club recognizes students who exemplify and uphold excellent moral conduct on and off the campus of Saint Mary's. The members of Silent S are known for their responsibility, honesty, sincerity, and virtues. The club volunteers their time and effort to boost the school's spirit and morale. Silent S has helped many people this past year through their volunteer work at the Phone-A-Thon and Octoberfest. Every year it becomes harder and harder to fill the shoes of the previous officers, but Silent S always seems to come through.

MAPS is a social club which promotes school spirit. It is a group of college sophomores who wear hats, long coats, and sunglasses at their walks. They have three walks a year in which they add new members or pass on their positions to underclassmen.

Throughout the school and community Abra Ca Dabra shared with others in many ways. The members of Abra Ca Dabra expressed the excitement of school spirit, and were always concerned with helping others. Abra Ca Dabra provided assistance to those less fortunate through food and clothing donations. They also experienced a lot of fun and laughs during the Octoberfest carnival. Abra Ca Dabra members share a bond that will not be forgotten, even after Saint Mary's is left behind.

WATS is an organization which provides members with an opportunity to meet new people in various social settings.

Cold Cuts

Cold Cuts has survived since 1959 and is strong this year as it has ever been. The 93-94 Cold Cuts began the tradition of the "Original Nine" instead of seven. By the end of the year they were 15 strong and proudly displayed their colors of teal green overalls and peach t-shirts. They rehearsed five nights a week this year in preparation for their numerous performance both on and off campus. They showed their colors in Pittman in September thus kicking off a year full of performances. Other on campus performances this year included Parents Day, visitation days for prospective students, Octoberfest, Mother-Daughter Day, a spring performance in the dining hall, and their final performance on front campus. Off-campus, the group performed for several nursing homes in Raleigh and Fuquay-Varina and for the Exxon Board of directors at the Carolina Country Club. We hate to see this year's group graduate, but we look forward to next year's Cold Cuts.

Beacon

Beacon is the high school leadership organization, and as such represents one of the highest honors a Saint Mary's girl can attain. The purpose is synonymous with its name, that is, to be a shining example of all that is good about Saint Mary's and to embody the school's spirit and values. Beacon members also strive to encourage all members of Saint Mary's community to involve themselves in the school, and to feel a genuine love for and devotion to Saint Mary's.

VERITAS

The Serenitas Veritas members, as shown above, are Anne Glenn, Stacey Smith, Amy Kilgore, Elisa Esposito, Baxter Wagner, Margaret Taylor, Macarena Mon, Sandy Calves, Kate Porter, Joanna Weatherman, Alison Britt, and Connie Silver.

The Serenitas Veritas leaves small gifts, words of encouragement, and signs of compassion all across the Saint Mary's campus. They promote the true spirit of the school. No one outside the group knows who belongs to Serenitas Veritas, which translates from the Spanish to "quiet truth." Frequently, a faculty member opens his or her mailbox to find a note that says "We appreciate all you do for Saint Mary's. S.V." Students receive pencils and other tokens throughout the year. It is amazing how a gesture as simple as a note can make an entire week seem brighter.

The club was established in 1909 for the purpose of keeping close ties with Alumnae Association, continuing the traditions of the college, building new traditions, and promoting school spirit. The projects that the members are responsible for are sending Halloween treats to the student body each year, placing the luminaries for Lighting O' the Grove, helping with the annual party given to the graduating college class by the Saint Mary's Alumnae Association, and presenting a chapel service, as well as other campus projects throughout the year.

SPORTS

The 1994 College Team, led by sophomores Anne Glenn and Stacey Stallard, finished the spring season with a strong 5-4 win over arch rival Meredith College. Anne and freshman Brooke Ramos pulled out the last doubles match to wrap-up the victory. It was a sweet end to an up and down season for a very young Saints team. Victories over Greensboro College and Mary Baldwin were highlights for the nine member squad. Next year's team will miss the play of Anne, who has been strong member of the high school and college teams, and Stacey, who was a two year college starter. Starters back for next year will include Mary Harvard Nolde, Luci White and Nicole Kerr.

The High School Tennis Team continued a long tradition of producing winning tennis teams and top notch players, finishing tied for the Piedmont Athletic Conference of Independent Schools championship and sixth in the state tournament. Led by Conference Player of the Year, Maiko Noda and Conference Coach of the Year, Jessica Gammon, the team finished 11-1 overall. Maiko won the state tournament playing the number one singles position. Junior Emily McQueen and Sophomore Adrienne Stone finished second in the state at number three doubles. Junior Ruth Hearn was a semifinalist at number five singles. Seniors Virginia Bullock and Holly Evans will be key losses for next year's team, but a strong group of juniors, sophomores, and promising new players will carry on the Saint Mary's tennis tradition.

The volleyball, coach and players were all brand new! It is obvious from the photograph of Corey Mapes, Kristy Rawls, Hope Dangefield and Nicole Loucks that the team did not lack intensity. Their ability to stay focused was a hallmark of their season. Coach Blanche Hancock was extremely pleased with the progress her team girls make an important contribution to the spirit of Saint Mary's and are responsible for leaving other students with warm memories they take with them for the rest of their lives.

As a result of working closely together, friendships developed that outlasted the volleyball season. Harper Best and Laura Raynor, standouts on the team, exemplify the bond that forms among teammates.

Jenny Lewis exhibits fine technique in her serve.

BASKETBALL

When Coach Davis Dillon gathered his new basketball team around him only one member, Margaret Rowell, had played the year before for Saint Mary's. Of the remaining ten, four, Nancy Hill, Amy Macchiaverna, Jennifer Lewis and Cameron Kirkland were absolute rookies. However, this team finished the season with an overall 13-7 record. Emily Jenkins was named to the second team All-Conference team, while Raven McDonald won an Honorable Mention.

Speed and agility were the main components that led the Saint Mary's soccer team to such a successful season. Cameron Kirkland (above) races toward our goal. Raven McDonald, (below) one of the leading scorers for Saint Mary's team, swings wide as she goes in for a goal.

More than forty girls tried out for the 1993-94 soccer team, coached by Davis Dillon! The fledgling team had only three players return from last year and brought together a group who had never worked together before.

They were AWESOME! Liz Johnson (Upper left), Jennifer Lewis (Center), and Ruth Hearn (Lower left) were three of the team members who helped Saint Mary's capture the number three spot in the state. Ruth Hearn has the distinction of being the only Saint Mary's student to play a sport from the first week of school until two weeks after the official school year ended. Her tennis season overlapped basketball and basketball overlapped soccer.

Raven McDonald and Kelly Karras made the 1994 All-Conference team, with Raven winning the honor of the player of the year for the conference. Dave Dillon was named Co-Coach of the year for the conference. Raven, Kelly and Kyrstin Krist made the All Region team. Raven made the All-State team, with Kelly Karras receiving Honorable Mention. Sophomores Raven McDonald, Jennifer Lewis, Kelly Karras, Kyrstin Krist, and Kristen Mitchell earned state, regional and national honors playing Select Soccer for local teams.

GRADUATION

College Marshall Suzanne Jones, dressed in white organdy with the Saint Mary's blue sash, drops the handkerchief on the front porch of Smedes Hall while the faculty looks on.

One of Saint Mary's outstanding features is its grasp on tradition. Even though change is inevitable, Saint Mary's has worked very hard to maintain the qualities that make it such a unique place. Most of the events at Saint Mary's such as club walks, recitals, classes, social functions, as well as life in general contain a large piece of the school's history. Perhaps the most traditional event at Saint Mary's, however, occurs only once (maybe twice) in the life of a Saint Mary's girl. That special event is, of course, graduation.

The first Saint Mary's commencement was held in 1879. "The most thrilling of public occasions were those of commencement week at Saint Mary's. When the concerts and other entertainments drew crowds." Commencement day was a lot more serious, however, as graduates in long white dresses filed into Smedes Parlor to read their senior essays. Afterwards, the school proceeded to the chapel to hear the honor roll and distinctions read by Aldert Smedes. Then, the main address was given, usually by the bishop of North Carolina. Next, the graduates were given their diplomas, tied with blue and white ribbons. After each girl had received her diploma, the graduates knelt before the bishop for the benediction. Following this was a recessional hymn. Then, "It was all over but the parting and the tears and the love that we will always have for our Alma Mater," wrote a 1895 graduate.

There are many events that occur at commencement which are symbolic even today. The newly elected chief marshal still drops the traditional handkerchief. In the 1970's a "new tradition" was added by closing the front doors of Smedes hall to signify the end of another academic year, which is done after the handkerchief is dropped.

Even though the commencement exercises are held in front of Smedes, and not in the Parlor as they were over 100 years ago, the graduation itself still contains most of the same rituals as it did in 1879. The history and symbolism play important roles in the ceremony because commencement is not only a day of excitement and anticipation for the future that lies ahead, but it is also a remembrance and love for this place that the graduates are leaving behind.

— Dee McCoy

After the handkerchief has been dropped, two of the marshalls close the heavy doors to Smedes to symbolize the end of the 1993-1994 school year.

As she walks to receive her diploma, each graduating high school student places an iris in a brass vase given by the sophomore class of 1987. Here the girls hold their flowers as Dean Hume presents the class to Dr. Jenkins.

Time stands still as marshalls Lucy White and Stacey Smith lead the procession of high school seniors around the circle. Amy Machiaverna and Cecily Luta follow.

College sophomores link arms and sway as they sing the school hymn as Saint Mary's students for the very last time. Some choked back tears.

If you stop and ask a Saint Mary's student or alum what one of the most valuable assets she gained from her time at Saint Mary's was, she will, undoubtedly, say the friends. The next pages of pictures represent a few of the wonderful relationships that grew over the 1993-1994 school year in both the college and the high school, and the boarding and the day populations; many of which will live to "last a lifetime through."

FRIENDSHIP

TO THE HAPPINESS WE FIND IN THE COMFORT OF A FRIENDSHIP
THAT'S THE WARM AND LASTING KIND — A FRIENDSHIP
BASED ON CARING THOUGHTS,
GENTLE, TRUSTING WAYS, MOMENTS SHARED —
BOTH GOOD AND BAD —
WORDS OF LOVE AND PRAISE.
AND NOTHING ELSE CAN QUITE COMPARE TO KNOWING AS FRIENDS DO.

WE'LL SHARE AN UNDERSTANDING THAT WILL LAST A LIFETIME THROUGH.
— AUTHOR UNKNOWN

Christmas seems such a long way from graduation as friends gather to celebrate the season. Macarena Mon, Elizabeth Rainey, Nicol Constantino and Anna Query are at a party in the Tyler Board Room.

This trio of high school sophomores are far from the bittersweet time of graduation. Kelly Karras, Kristen Mitchell and Jocelyn Fuller have just told Santa what they want for Christmas.

The night before graduation the Alumnae Association is hostess to the graduating sophomores. It is a time of exhilaration, toasts, poems and tears. The graduates are filled with anticipation, at the same time, they mourn the fact that they will be separated by great distances from some of their friends. Joanna Weatherman, Amy McIlvain, Robin White, Toccoa Choate, Mary Pat Phillips, and Sally Howell are on the back lawn of Ellie Jarman's home in Raleigh where the class of 1994 was entertained by the alums.

Sometimes the 10th graders let the 11th and 12th graders play with them. This October afternoon was more than any sophisticated student could stand. Unfortunately for John Johnson, who had raked leaves all morning, this group of Day Students and Sarah Corbitt scattered them in a matter of minutes. Heather Holden, Courtney Weill, Laura Raynor, Harper Best's head, Cee Sidler, Stephanie Abee, Ashley Twiggs, and Sarah Corbitt engage in a fierce leaf fight.

Emily Dillon, Alice Gray Odom, Jeannine Eason (better known as Tootie) and Virginia Bullock are up REAL late after an UNDATETTES walk.

In one of the rare pictures of both Rabons, Rheney Rabon, Sara Voelker, Stacey Stallard, and Shay Rabon travel away from Saint Mary's to visit old friends.

Amy Kilgore, Beth Huber, and Elizabeth Rainey are glad to get back to school for the Front Campus Jam.

Ches Pope, Tracy Ivey, and Raven McDonald chow down after a basketball game.

Alison Leith and Megan Ortman are certainly single-minded about their pretzels. Alison is even wearing a T-shirt from a grocery store.

Even though they are in the cafeteria, this crew does not have its mind just on food. They are spear-heading what turned out to be a very successful campaign to recruit members for Habitat For Humanity, an organization that donates time, labor and materials to build houses for the poor. Recruiters are Millicent Mooring, Marnie Metts (future suitemates at State), Judith Freeman, and Tootie Eason.

Alice Gray Odom holds two fingers behind the head of a broadly smiling Judith Freeman.

Mary Pat Phillips, Kumiko Kawata, Austin Staunch, Elisa Esposito, Sara Voelker, and Anna Whitley are having a good time at a MAPS walk.

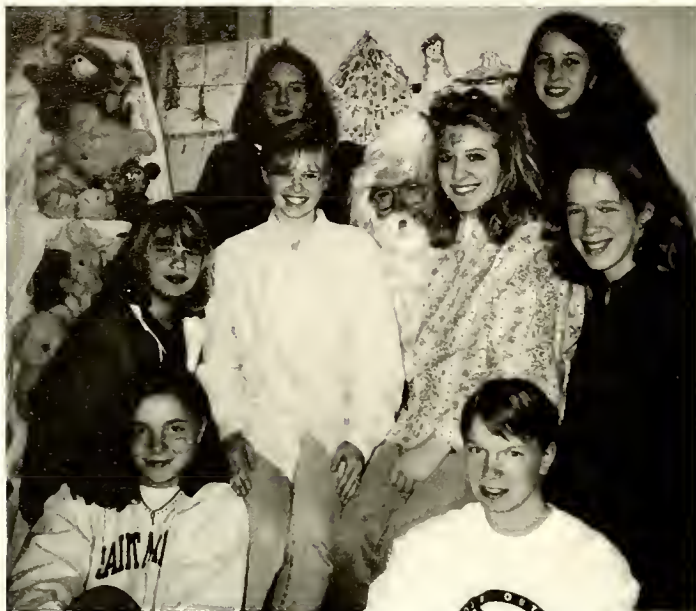

Emily McQueen (standing) and Ruth Hearn (front right) seem to be asking the question "Are we having fun yet?" Margaret Rowell, Jennifer Ormsby and Graham James seem to think they are.

We did it again! Stacey Stallard and Anne Glenn celebrate another tennis victory.

High School students had a chance to bond in the fall when they went roller skating. The bumps and bruises do not show in this photograph!

Those exuberant 10th graders pile on poor Santa while they make room for Tracey Kagarise (right knee). On the bottom sit Cee Sidler and Laura Raynor. Next are Heather Holden, Angie DeMario, Santa, Tracey, and Adrienne Stone. Stephanie Abee and Courtney Weil are standing on the back row.

The Circle/Beacon party is one of the highlights of the Christmas season and of the school year. Here, Laura Park, Allison Partridge, Jeanie Jackson, Lucy Coleman, and Dee McCoy stop entertaining in Smedes parlor long enough to have their picture taken.

Friends at Saint Mary's always seem to be smiling!
Sandy Calves, Connie Silver and Anne Green are no exception.

Nicole Kerr and Susan Taylor flash big grins to signify they are having a great time!

Beth Miller, Lindsey Reynolds, Ches
Pope, Liz Johnson, Susanna Ward, and Mags Miller clown around on 2nd Smedes.

Even Cold Cuts need a break sometimes! Rheney Rabon, Elisa Esposito, Susan Taylor and Anne Green take a ride across a field to rest from rehearsal.

During our preliminary visits to Saint Mary's, in the catalogue, on the video, during orientation — we heard over and over and over that one of the special aspects of being a student here would be the friendships we made. Every single word was true! It is difficult to try and explain to someone who has not experienced life at Saint Mary's.

Late night talks in the dorms, late night rides returning from athletic events, Bulls games, ice hockey games, picnics on the patio, club walks, walking to chapel on fall afternoons while leaves crunch underfoot, crying with a friend just dumped by her boyfriend, celebrating with a friend who just got the date of a lifetime, assemblies, lights out in the high school dorm, not being able to stop laughing during study hall — all these memories and a million more make up the Saint Mary's experience. Most of us wish we never had to leave, but all of us leave better for having been here.

Ah! Those Belles of Saint Mary's! Emily Jenkins, Eliza Pittman, Cameron Kirkland, Amy Snipes, and Anna Carstarphen are on their way out shopping.
